

Rusty cage real name

I'm not robot

reCAPTCHA

Continue

Rusty Keiju is 30 years old from 2020. Born on January 24, 1990 in Florida, USA. His name is at birth to Benjamin Stuart Steele and the birth sign of Aquarius. He later lived in Gainesville. He was also born to American parents, but did not reveal their names, nor about the siblings. He also holds American citizenship and his ethnicity is Caucasian. Moving towards his education, he did not reveal his exact name of the educational institutions and subjects in which he specializes. A professional LifeTalking about the professional life of Rusty Cage, he began his Youtube career in 2009 under the username RustyCageMusic. However, he changed his username to his name. It also went viral in 2013 in the most dangerous game on the Internet. He also performed his song Knife Game on the German talent show Unschlagbar. He continued to do the knife Game Songs series, summing up a total of 34 videos (but no longer willing to do them). She downloads cover versions of the songs as well as original music. He even does several series such as Rusty Rant and Rusty Meets. It became more popular after the release of The Cuss Word Song, a spin-off of How to Lose Subscribers 3. He collaborated and was featured with other YouTubers like Mumkey Jones and Nerd City. In addition, it is also part of the State YouTube podcast with Mumkey Jones and EmpLemon. His online name is shared by the song Soundgarden with the same name. In addition, he gradually increased the number of its subscribers and gained popularity as a musician, and as a social and political runner, which earned more than 1.4 million subscribers. He created a short graphic novel called Requiem Crazyies. He also published a number of original and cover versions of the songs on YouTube. Similarly, one of his covers posted on YouTube was Randy Newman You Have a Friend in Me. In addition, it also has a secondary Youtube channel called Rusty Cage 2 and Rusty Cage covers. Caption: Rusty Cage captured with a puppet for the Youtube video (Source: Instagram) Similarly, he collaborated and was featured with other YouTubers like Mumkey Jones and Nerd City. It is also part of the State YouTube podcast with Mumkey Jones and EmpLemon. Coincidentally, the Songgarden song shares its name online. In 2019, he released his first comic book, Requiem for The Crazy. MusicRusty Cage gained fame as a talented musician. His songs are usually about addiction, atheism, death, and other taboo topics discarded by society; and critics in the community. To date, he has seven albums: Blues, Gospels and Whathaveyous (2011), Heretics (2013), Crowley (2015), Old Covers from YouTube (2016), Stupid, Bad Songs That I Made (2017), The Knife Game: Complete Collection (2017) and Gangstalkers (2018). Relationship statusReflecting on the status of Rusty Cage's relationship, he is one now. He hasn't married yet and has no children. Currently, focusing on his career. However, he can wait for his perfect match to be paired with in the future. In addition, he did not even disclose his previous relationship and kept his personal life a secret. He also kept a clean profile and was not involved in any controversial act. Measuring body: Rusty Cage poses on a black dress (Source: Instagram) Rusty Cage has a rocking personality with his good looks. It is 5ft 4in tall and weighs about an average body weight, but did not mention the exact weight. In addition, it has brown hair color and brown eyes color. Social media and Net WorthRusty Cage are socially active on media sites such as Instagram, Twitter, etc., and do not have a Facebook account. He's got a lot of fans following. In addition, he has about 93.2 thousand followers on his Instagram account and

